SAMPLE APA TITLE PAGE

The title should summarize the paper's main idea and identify the variables under discussion and the relationship between them.

The title should be centered on the page, typed in 12-point Times New Roman Font. It should not be bolded, underlined, or italicized.

The author's name and institution should be double-spaced and centered.

Varying Definitions of Online Communication and Their

Effects on Relationship Research

The running head is a shortened version of the paper's full title, and it is used to help readers identify the titles for published articles (even if your paper is not intended for publication, your paper should still have a running head).

The running head cannot exceed 50 characters, including spaces and punctuation. The running head's title should be in capital letters. The running head should be flush left, and page numbers should be flush right.

*On the title page, the running head should include the words "Running head." For pages following the title page, repeat the running head in all caps without "Running head."
