The current schedule and proposed fees for 2020/21 can be found on the Tuition and Fees page of the College's website.

Intercollegiate Athletic Fee:

The purpose of the Farmingdale Intercollegiate Athletic Program is to support and expand the total educational experience offered by the College. The program, available for men and women, offers student-athletes a wide variety of opportunities for participation. Farmingdale is a Division III member of the NCAA, and competes as members of the Skyline, ECAC, CTC Conferences and NJAC Conference (for track only). The College is committed to the ideals of a quality intercollegiate athletic program that contributes to its objectives of offering its students a quality educational experience. Specifically, the athletics fee:

- Provides team equipment and the maintenance of athletic facilities
- Underwrites transportation, meals and other expenses for the teams
- Supports salaries for individuals who coach the teams, manage the athletic programs and maintain the campus athletic facilities

The SUNY Policy on Intercollegiate Athletics governs funding of intercollegiate athletics programs and the College's Intercollegiate Athletics Board (IAB) monitors, reviews and recommends policy for campus intercollegiate athletics programs.

SUNY's Policy on Student Health Services contains principles governing the provision of such services, including the following:

- Campus based health services exist to serve students, based on needs assessment
- Campus health services should provide access to delivery systems for primary acute illness and injury care, as well as specialized clinics and educational programs
- The nature and scope of the health services provided should be developed and measured in conjunction with existing national standards
